PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

As you all know, the name of this club is The Pembroke Welsh Corgi Club of the Potomac. It is made up of members who show in Conformation, Obedience, Rally, Agility, and other dog sports. We have members involved in rescue and others who joined solely for the love of this special breed. We should never have the thought that this club represents some against others, or that people who do one of the above are better than the others. We are all in this club together, and working together makes the club stronger. I want every club member to know that if they have questions, concerns, or recommendations, they can call me or any officer or board member.

Now, based on that groundhog living in Pennsylvania, spring weather will be here in a few weeks. With spring comes our Specialty. It takes a village to raise a child, and it takes a lot of club members to put on our Specialty. We are known for putting on a fantastic show. Please volunteer wherever you can.

See you in Baltimore.

PWCCP Hosts the National!

BY JOAN SCOTT

After months of isolation and worry, our corgi family, hosted by Potomac, was able to come together at the Founders Inn and Resort in Virginia Beach, Va. The quality of the entry was beautiful, and competition was fierce. We partied, laughed, cried, and celebrated our breed and each other.

I loved the venue, and although we were still dealing with Covid and all that had come with it, the staff at the hotel could not have been more accommodating. There were a few hiccups as they were short staffed, but patience and good humor made up for any real issues.

Shawn Michael was my sidekick, and I so appreciated her calming influence when I was overwhelmed. She is such an asset to Potomac and is always willing to be there when needed. I am indebted to her for taking over when I needed her.

The National held their herding trials in North Carolina and it looks like the facility there made up for the distance folks have to travel. One day I am going to attend and perhaps participate in a herding trial; it is on my bucket list.

Carol Donnelly wore a couple different hats the week of the National, and herding chairman was the first hat worn--what a job she does. Her other hat she wore was head of Peer Education and with many cancellations of her panel and reassigning and changing... It all worked out and I understand was a huge success on Friday evening. I unfortunately had to miss it because I was able to sneak away and have dinner with our judges.

Agility was on Monday at Level Up in Mechanicsburg, VA, and this was headed by Jane Glier. Kudos to Mary Ann Wehmueler , our Performance chair, and her team. Walter O'Brien started our week at the Founders on Tuesday with Rally and Obedience. I have to also thank John Dugan for all of his help with just about everything.

Gigi Fitzgerald took over the grooming area and thankfully her husband Charlie and Dede and Grant Rodgers put that puzzle together, and believe me that is a thankless and difficult job. Another huge thank you goes to the Crivelli family.... the entire family is amazing and there every minute, putting down the plastic, working on the microphone system, running errands, absolutely any and everything they helped with. I owe them a lot and one of these days when I slow up, I will figure out a way to say thank you.

Just writing this article is exhausting thinking about all that we fit in that week. We had Fast CAT, a Vet there doing OFA X-rays, and one of our vendors who made show leads giving leather braiding lessons. We had a 4- to 6-month puppy match during our welcome party. We had a beach party with the Rhondells. Many found time to run down to the beach and, of course, eat seafood. We even had a champagne toast and memorial for Donna Newton. I could go on and on.

Potomac you should be proud of putting on one of the best Nationals ever. The banquet was such fun with Anna Wyatt and Vicki Trexler hosting that. The silent auction was a huge success. Carrie Chase was in charge of motor home parking and I believe I heard a rumor there was a pretty big party out there one night. Thank you Carrie for doing an amazing job. You never have to worry when you ask her to do a job.

We had a Breeders Competition. This was held hoping it would generate interest in our brood bitch and stud dog classes. Anne Bowes wrote an article in the Parent club newsletter, which is well worth reading.

Potomac will always have a special place in my heart. It was one of the first clubs I belonged to and I have so many great memories and lifelong friends I have made over all of these years. Thank you for hosting the National with me and making more memories that I hope you all will cherish. Please send for a copy of the PWCCA Winter newsletter as it is full of our National details that I do not have room to include here. The photographs are priceless and I am adding some here. But you do not want to miss this issue.

Live Auction for the Last Leon Bezdkian Stained Glass!

See details on the next page on how to obtain this last-chance item.

Your opportunity to own a part of PWCCP history!

Live Auction!

The PWCCP will be offering three very special items for live auction at the 2022 Specialty. At the auction, you will have the opportunity to be the proud owner of a very unique and one-of-a-kind item:

- ♦ A Leon Bezdikian stained glass piece. THIS WILL BE LEON'S LAST PIECE. HE HAS CLOSED HIS STUDIO.
- ♦ Framed Linda Ozelis Original Specialty Pen and Ink Drawing
- ♦ Carol Openhym Handmade Art Quilt

On behalf of the PWCCP, a very sincere thanks to those who provided these marvelous items for the live auction.

The live auction will take place at the Specialty Banquet following the Judges' Remarks. You do not have to be in attendance at the Specialty to be a winner. Please make arrangements for item pick-up if you are the winner. We are unable to ship items to winners.

For more information on the Live Auction or to donate to the Silent Auction, please contact the Silent Auction Chair: Carol Lord Openhym, 443-831-0531, e-mail: clopenhym@verizon.net.

Silent Auction

The 2022 PWCCP Specialty will again be offering the very popular Silent Auction. Items can be delivered to the Silent Auction tables for check-in during the show. The Silent Auction will be set up at the hotel before the banquet. Items will be awarded to the highest bidders throughout the evening of the banquet.

In search of DONATIONS!

Please contact Carol Lord Openhym if you would like to donate an item to the Silent Auction for the 2022 Specialty. Email Carol at copenhym@verizon.net with a description of what you are donating and if you want to indicate a minimum bid amount. (If not, that is ok too!) Knowing in advance helps us plan and prepare for the event ahead of time, so thanks in advance! Thanks also for helping fill the auction tables with many desirable artifacts! Please note that the Silent Auction takes place during the Friday night banquet and is separate from the Wednesday night brown bag raffle.

Legislative News

ANTIMICROBIAL DRUGS IN COMPANION ANIMALS

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) has announced that it is soliciting comments from the public on the use of antimicrobial drugs in companion animals. Specifically, FDA is interested in learning whether the use of such drugs has resulted in microorganisms—like bacteria, viruses, fungi, and parasites—becoming resistant to them. FDA hopes to engage with stakeholders, particularly veterinarians, and use the information they provide to develop and implement a strategy for promoting antimicrobial stewardship in companion animals.

Antimicrobial drugs have been widely used in human and veterinary medicine for more than 80 years. A reduction or loss in the drugs' effectiveness poses a serious threat to animal and human health. Developing and promoting coordinated antimicrobial stewardship programs are believed to improve patient outcomes, reduce microbial resistance, and decrease the spread of infections caused by multidrug-resistant organisms.

Remembering Lisa Gilbert

By Pat Koons

Lisa (pronounced Lissa) Gilbert died Feb 9, 2022. She and her husband, Ron, moved to Ramblewood Farm in 1960. They were my neighbors down the hill. I knew Lisa from horses and dog training. We were trainers for The Dog Training Club of York, and I took classes from her when she opened Ramblewood Dog Training. She is the reason I became interested in Corgis. I met Derry Krause through Lisa and got my first Corgi from Derry. Derry and Lisa had been friends for years.

Lisa was a Lifetime member of our club and supported many events, especially herding, and rescue.

Lisa and Ron also had Shelties and Bouvies.

When Ron died, their daughter, Betsy, and son in law, Ken, purchased Ramblewood with the provision that Lisa could live there for the rest of her life. Betsy had been her soul caretaker for the last few years, as Lisa had not been in good health. Lisa had been quite ill since before Christmas, suffered a massive stroke recently, and a fall which lead to her death.

Lisa also has another daughter, Cindy Gilbert, who runs a horse farm in Manheim, PA, with her husband David Garber. Lisa's son Daniel and his wife Lori live in Red Lion, PA. Betsy and Cindy are riding instructors and both have Corgis.

Memories of Lisa Gilbert in New Zealand

By Kathy Kelly

While dining with several club members at a PWCCP event several years ago, Stephon and I got to know Lisa Gilbert. Lisa was excited, busily preparing for her annual trip to Dunedin New Zealand. As she described her winter home on Otago Harbor's wild and windswept coastline, Stephon and I became enchanted and decided right then to add New Zealand to our travel bucket list.

We didn't wait long. The following winter found us in Auckland on New Zealand's North Island and over the next 3 weeks we drove steadily southward until we reached Dunedin where Lisa greeted us with open arms.

We couldn't have asked for a better guide. Known for its Victorian and Edwardian architecture, Lisa delighted in showing off her city. She took us shopping, to her favorite restaurants, and to her favorite beach, located just yards away from her home's front door.

One morning, the three of us took a scenic, and rather daring, drive to the tip of the Otago Peninsula. Nothing wakes one up more than driving on the opposite side of the road, on a cliff with few, if any, guard rails. Lisa, of course, didn't bat an eye. New Zealand was her second home and she loved the country's rugged terrain and stunning vistas.

Moreover, the trek was worth it as these rocky cliffs were home to a wildlife reserve and the Royal Albatross Center. There, we watched in awe as these majestic monarchs of the sea with their 10-foot wingspan came home to roost and have their chicks.

In the evenings, Stephon and Lisa worked on puzzles together. Lisa loved puzzles and had stacks of them throughout her house. But perhaps our favorite memory of Lisa happened just before we left for Invercargill - New Zealand's southernmost city. Lisa had found an injured wild hedgehog in her backyard. Fearing for its life, she raced it to her local vet, and then took it home to nurse it back to health. It was fun to witness the "softer" side of this tough-minded and independent lady which we were proud to call our friend.

She will be sorely missed.

Rescue News

By Pat Koons

I still have no dogs in rescue. However, I have had lots of calls, and emails asking me to take in dogs. Unfortunately, most of these dogs had bitten someone, and in many cases, multiple times. I always explain to folks that we evaluate a dog to see if we will take the dog into our foster program. We also expect the dog to be up to date on shots. Some people don't get back to me, knowing we won't take just any dog, and especially not a mixed breed. The calls I get are from people who got a dog from a pet shop, back yard breeder, or a puppy mill.

Deb Wimer and I have spent lots of hours talking to people about whether they really want a Corgi. Some folks change their minds when they realize that Corgis can be sweet lovable dogs, but they need exercise and work.

People contact us because they want a Corgi, but hope to find something that is cheaper. We explain that many rescue dogs, and dogs that are not well bred, can have physical and behavioral problems. We tell them it is much better to pay more and get a well bred pup. We always say they will get help from good breeders.

I am asking members to please, please, educate people as much as you can. Put educational posts about Corgis on Facebook, etc. There are tons of cute Corgi videos on Facebook. I would love to see some educational posts on our web site.

I know that many of you are overwhelmed by requests. If you don't have time to talk to someone, please give them Deb's and my info.

I get calls from people who say they never hear back from breeders, and then they go wherever they can to get a dog. A woman in one of my classes tried for years to find a pup. She went to a pet shop and paid $2500 for a Pem with papers. The dog had ACA papers, which means nothing. He is a blue merle, has blue eyes, and looks like an Aussie Corgi Cross or Cattle Dog Corgi Cross. She had no idea what she actually purchased, and that she was ripped off. She does love the dog but needs lots of help to get him under control.

Thanks to all of you who do take time to talk to folks.

Advertising on the front cover or on page two is available by invitation from the editor.

Please review the following guidelines so that all the information that you wish to include is provided to us. This will prevent us from having to request additional information and will help to avoid confusion by having everything submitted at the same time.

Any or all of the following items may be submitted:

- Registered and call name of the dog.
- Sire and dam. It is generally a good idea to include the sire and dam for conformation Corgis. Sire and dam may be included for performance dogs. Rescue Corgis in performance under the AKC PALS program would not have a breed history, so would not have this included.
- What was achieved? What accomplishment(s) are you advertising?
- Where was it achieved (location and show)?
- Under which judge?
- On what date?
- Breeder (may be acknowledged formally or with such phrases as heartfelt thanks, etc.)
- Handler (including owner/handler and in the case of a handler not the owner may include thank yous).
- Owner (in the case of a particularly crowded ad, where the owner/handler is pictured, this can be noted in the picture).
- Photos: You must supply the name of the photographer or studio, even if you took the pictures yourself. It is the policy of The Tide to give attribution on all photos. Attribution is a legal requirement for professional photos. If there are special circumstances where the photographer is not known, please discuss with the Advertising Editor, or with the Editor.
- People in the photos: Judge and professional handler may be identified out of courtesy and as helpful information. Owner/handler is optional if ad is submitted by the owner/handler.
- Kennel logos are a good idea and may be included.
- Phone numbers, addresses, and email of breeders can be included by the breeder or with permission of the breeder if they are the advertiser, a member or if they co-own the dog with the advertiser. Publication of non-club members' names, addresses, and phone numbers may be listed in the Tide for those who co-own dogs with the advertiser.
- Finally, include any special text or explanations. (Please note that space is limited, and a long text will result in much smaller pictures, etc.)
